

Editorial on Community Medicine and Health Education

Depeng Jiang*

Assistant Professor Department of Community Health Sciences University of Manitoba, Canada

Introduction

Journal of Community Medicine & Health Education (JCMHE) extends a warm welcome to the researchers, scholars, academicians, clinical and medical practitioners to contribute their original research on community medicine.

As well as reflecting the traditional core subjects of Health Education, Mother and Child health, Community Health, Nutrition, Expanded program of Immunization, Safe drinking water and Sanitation, Control of Endemic Diseases, Treatment of Endemic Diseases, Provision of Essential Drugs, Community Medicine etc. I am pleased to announce that, till now all issues of volume 11 were published online well within the time and the print issues were also brought out and dispatched within 30 days of publishing the issue online during the year of 2021. The Journals aims to flourish and to maintain the standards in research and practice, provide platform and opportunity to present the interface of nutrition and other scientific fields of inquiry such as Community medicine, and probably the journal aims to be the voice of the overall medicine and health academic group.

JCMHE impact factor for the year 2020 was 1.15. All published articles of this journal are included in the indexing and abstracting coverage of Index Copernicus, Google Scholar, Publons, Genamics JournalSeek, RefSeek, Geneva Foundation for Medical Education and Research, OCLC- WorldCat, EBSCO A-Z, Hamdard University, Sherpa Romeo, Euro Pub, Studies receiving funding from a funding organization that is included on the list of PMC and Research Funder Policies or authors having NIH grant were submitted to PubMed. During the calendar year of 2020, JCMHE received a total of 52 manuscripts, out of which 10 articles were rejected in the preliminary screening due to plagiarism or being out of the format and peer review process. During 2020 around 33 articles were subjected for publication after they are accepted in the peer review process.

During the calendar year 2021, a total of two Editors, five Reviewers joined the board of JCMHE and contributed their valuable services towards contribution as well as publication of articles, and their valuable reviewer comments will beneficial to publish quality of article in the Journal.

6th issue of Volume 11 published during the year of 2021, a total of 5 articles were published (at an average of 5 articles per issue) of which, articles were published from authors all around the world. Globally articles have been accessed by the research scientists and also cited.

I take this opportunity to acknowledge the contribution of David Sanchiz (Spain), and Jim Annesi (USA) during the final editing of articles published and the support rendered by the editorial assistant, in bringing out issues of JCMHE in time.

I would also like to express my gratitude to all the authors, reviewers, the publisher, the advisory and the editorial board of JCMHE, the office bearers for their support in bringing out yet another volume of JCMHE and look forward to their unrelenting support to bring out the Volume 11 of JCMHE in scheduled time.

Acknowledgement

The author thanks to the Journal of Community Medicine and Health Education.

Conflict of Interest

The author has no potential conflicts of interest.

*Corresponding author: Depeng Jiang, Assistant Professor Department of Community Health Sciences University of Manitoba, Canada. Email: jiangg@cc.umanitoba.ca

Received date: July 6, 2021; Accepted date: July 22, 2021; Published date: July 31, 2021

Citation: Depeng J (2021) Editorial on Community Medicine and Health Education. J Comm Med Health Educ 11:e128.

Copyright: © 2021 Depeng J. This is an open-access article distributed under the terms of the Creative Commons Attribution License, which permits unrestricted use, distribution, and reproduction in any medium, provided the original author and source are credited..