Letter to Editor

Dear Editor,

I'm composing this letter to communicate my inclination towards the Journal, as I do follow the Journal and its updates for quite a while.

In the ongoing occasions, the entire world is being shaken with the pandemic of COVID-19, the majority of the activity got prematurely ended and numerous individuals are being constrained into neediness because of their activity misfortune yet to extraordinary amazement the Journal is overseeing great to flexibly the overall population with required measure of data in regards to the new updates in the field and it likewise is by all accounts adopting up to the circumstance quite well.

We could discover it's encouraging by the opportune arrival of issues and significant updates at these crucial occasions such as this I truly value your endeavours, difficult work, and assurance in giving new and logical data to open.

Journal of Environmental Pollution and Climate Change is a decent and renowned Journal we expect it will improve in the up and coming issues with a decent number of articles being distributed in each issue. We trust all the wreck made far and wide because of the pandemic circumstance gets settled soon and could be discovering considerably more fascinating updates from one of the world's best Journal.

Much obliged to you for your time and thought

Yours Sincerely

Akhila Anji Reddy. V
