Literature Review

The Guerrilla campaign has greatly effects on brand image, brand attitude and purchase intention. Guerrilla marketing campaign is more credible and more creative than the traditional marketing campaign and perceived more amazing, comical and interest creating. A credible campaign contains a positive effect on brand attitude, as well as brand image and a campaign which creates word-of-mouth has a positive effect on purchase intention and brand loyalty. If the campaign perceived as both creative campaign and credible campaign, it will make a positive effect on brand image, brand attitude and as well as buying intention [1].

Ahmad Nawaz [2] examined that Guerrilla advertising has a great impact on consumer buying behavior and it is suitable for all companies and instead of assumption, judgment and experience it should based upon psychology. Guerrilla Advertising is a popular marketing technique which is used in product marketing and that makes the use of unusual of unconventional ways of providing the product to the marketplace. The other growing technique used in Guerrilla Advertising is Stealth Marketing that includes a number of techniques such as celebrity marketing. Usually Celebrity Marketing is used by the Market leaders.

Bwisa [3] conducted a research in Machakos Country Kenya in which he considering that there is a relationship exists between guerrilla marketing and business growth. For the success and growth of business shops most of the proprietors used word of mouth marketing. Word of mouth is one of the most effective Marketing techniques which play a vital role to easily deliver the message and grape the attention of customers towards any product of services. To develop and retain a strong relationship with customers Marketers used WOM strategy. Experiential Marketing develop a connection in such a way that the customer respond to a result on the support of both rational and emotional feedback. Mostly Opinion leaders used Experiential marketing strategy to enhance the business growth. Internet is also the most powerful tool which is used by lots of the companies to obtain the relevant information and ignorance of this tool may be the reason of organizations backward.

According to Muhammad Ehsan Malik [4] advertisement have a significant impact on the consumer buying behavior as compared to consumer perception. The consumer perception has a positive but having weak impact on consumer buying behavior. Advertisement is the most effective tool of Marketing which plays an imperative role in the present age as it outline the perceptions and attitude of individuals and as well as society which usually manipulates the customers buying behavior along with advertisement. Moreover creativity and quality Advertisement also play a significant role to enhance the consumer buying behavior by given awareness about a product or a services and strong marketing strategies can develop a positive consumer perception.

Mohsin Shakeel [5] analyzed that the celebrity endorsement has a significant positive influence on consumer perception and it gives a positive compensation to companies. Celebrity endorsement is a type of advertising that employ well-known characters using their fame to grasp a high degree of trust, respect, recognition and awareness among the people regarding any product or a service. According to Miller [6] in this modern era, everyone is well aware about the manipulation of Marketing Communication in their lives. Guerrilla marketing can also be judge as Marketing Communication (MC) that has an essential impact on every kind of market. Generally direct marketing, and advertising through newspapers, TV and radio are used to gain the attention of the customers.

Packaging is an effective Marketing tool which plays an imperative role for portraying information about the product. Product packaging helps consumer by providing information as outside. Packaging contains direction on how to use the product. It often the last impression the customer will have of the product before making the final decision. Packaging is the most powerful and valuable element which influence consumer buying behavior. It is also confirm that the product quality and elements of packaging are the most significant factors while making a purchase decision. Marketers doing efforts to grasp the customer's concentration and interest by making the packaging more suitable and eye-catching. This technique makes the people to become more demanding about the product [7].
According to Sonkusare [8] television is often the most convenient and flexible advertising media as it consider as the ruler of advertising media and as well as it also consider as the ruler of advertisement expenses. It has confirmed its command to manipulate individual behavior again and again. Television plays a great role to capture the attention and create preference of large audience so because of which most of the companies using television advertising to show their product and service. Television advertising has a significant impact on women customer’s buying behavior which means that it makes them aware about the information which they always gather before buying a product. There are many other factors which having a great impact on women buying behavior and those are word-of-mouth, social and personal factors.

Mehrdad Mahmooditavana [9] said that guerrilla marketing has a great effect on entrepreneurship development. Organizational entrepreneurship is very important factor for the success and growth of every organization. Establishing individual credibility and innovation are important tools for the economic progress of developing countries. Guerrilla marketing is a approach that facilitate the company to develop marketing entrepreneurship and get the maximum output in limited resources. Innovation, creation of job, technological level and technical knowledge are the most significant aspects of entrepreneurship development. To make the position for entrepreneurship development the advisors of apparel industry should concentrate on work flexibility and quickness and as well as employing strong consultants.

According to Muhammad Ehsan Malik [10] for the success and growth of any organization advertisement and brand image play a vital role. A strong brand image is a commanding asset because in this advance business era organization’s Brand image is as much important as the goods and service that the organization produced. An effective brand image always tells a story of the business which may help the customer to understand and analysis that what the company is all about. Brand image and advertisement has a strong positive relationship with consumer buying behavior as Brand image help to modify the buying behavior and the other element Advertisement is an effective source which helps to create awareness, convey the message and stay in the mind of customers.

Farouk [11] conducted a research in Egypt market in which he analyzed that Guerrilla marketing is a cost effective marketing technique which has a significant effects as compared to the traditional marketing. According to the research it is prove that guerrilla marketing is a unique and creative technique in marketing function which is usually used by companies to stimulate the customers towards the product. It is one of the best advertising strategy which can be used to enhance the functional values of the brand and create a competitive position in the present economic condition. While using Guerrilla Marketing its very necessary to consider the ethics of the business and the consumer culture.

According to Raju [12] advertising play a very efficient role in consumer decision making. Advertising is a type of communication which manipulate the viewers by providing a useful information about the product or a service which helps the customer to make a certain decision because mostly buyers act on the partial information in which they can faced unexpected risk. A buying decision can be measured as an optimization procedure which help the buyers to find the brand or a product that yield the maximum satisfaction.

Hafiz Muhammad Arshad [13] said that with the page of time the growth of mobile phones business in Pakistan are increasing day by day as the need for efficient advertising is also increased. Effective advertising helps to create the emotional responses which easily persuade their purchase behavior. The purchasing of mobile phones are raised time by time because advertisement is significantly influenced the consumer purchase behavior through the help of emotional and environmental response. As compared to environmental responses the emotional response has a significant impact because consumer want to buy those products that fully satisfy them and by which they are emotional attached.

Fazal Rehman [14] examined that the advertising is very necessary and effective strategy to attract the customer towards the product. The advertising have a positive and significant effects on the purchasing behavior as compared to the factors of rural areas which have a negative but important effects on the buying behavior of the consumer. It is the element of promotional mix to generate awareness and interest among the target audiences.

According to Achmad Yanu Alif Fianto [15] brand image has a great and positive impact on the purchasing behavior of the consumer as the brand trust has an arbitrating role from the relationship between brand image with purchasing behavior of the consumer. Brand trust is an essential component to developing the brand. Market competition offer functional attributes of the product itself but also linked with the brand that generate a special image for its customers and this have done specially in the service industry. To create the perception of quality it is very necessary that the gesture should be intrinsic or extrinsic which helps the brand to become more important and valuable.

Ghulam Shabbir Khan Niazi [16] analyzed that emotional response has a positive relationship with customer buying behavior and on the other hand there is no relationship among environmental response and consumer purchase behavior. As compared to environmental response mostly customers purchased products by emotional response. Customers usually purchase those product or service from which they are emotionally closed but in environmental response they doing unplanned shopping.

Moreover, the study also entails that consumer buying behavior can be improved with the rich customer loyalty and innovative advertisements and by making positive consumer behavior through the help of a strong marketing techniques such as guerrilla marketing. Customer always wants something different and something creative and this need is fulfilled by guerrilla marketing. Once the customer is satisfied they shows loyalty and buying the same product frequently, in short its demand for the product will be increased. On the other side the result also shows that now a day’s social media and word of mouth marketing is very significant and has influence on the usability of guerrilla marketing. The result also revealed that trust has a great influence on customer loyalty as it is the fundamental part of any business. Businesses make strong relationships with their loyal customers as they help to increase the frequency of buying the same product. Secondly customer satisfaction is also an important aspect which is considered as a major determinant of customer loyalty which help to increases the customer demand for the similar product again and again.
Recommendations

Due to the positive impact and increasingly growing Market need, we would like to put ahead the following recommendations:

Guerrilla marketing should be modified as a conventional marketing strategy.

Beverage industry should generate local campaigns planned to meet the culture.

Campaigns which are unconventional within guerrilla marketing should use to build more consciousness.

Marketers should expand the understanding of guerrilla marketing.

This research is performed in beverage industry sector of Karachi and can be done more accurately but the shortage of time limited to Karachi only. Therefore for generalization of these findings, it is very essential for the future researcher to do this research by using other sectors like food industry and other FMCG companies as well as make sure to keep the other cities of the Pakistan because of in near future they will be more considerable to obtain comprehensive result.
