I hereby express great interest in my continued service as Editor of Medicinal Chemistry Journal. I further give my consent to the Journal to disclose my affiliation and contact information as shown below. I do not have any conflict of interest which would interfere with this important service for the science, medicine, and technology communities.

I strongly recommend that this journal to be indexed in PubMed Central. The journal staff and editorial board members have worked very hard to establish the high professional standing of the journal. Thank you for your attention to this important matter.
