Re: In Support of OMICS Journal of Radiology to be indexed in PubMed Central

To whom it may concern,

This letter is to recommend OMICS Journal of Radiology to be indexed in PubMed Central.

The reason why I am suitable to write this recommendation letter is based on my academic achievement and my background as a senior radiologist, imaging scientist, and medical educator. I am currently an Associate Researcher at the Center for Functional Onco-Imaging, University of California Irvine. I am also a full professor at the Department of Radiology, School of Medicine, Eda Hospital and I-Shou University, Kaoshiung, Taiwan. I always keep a good track record of scientific publication. So far I have published more than 110 SCI peer-reviewed articles. I am an editorial board member of ten international medical journals. I regularly review scientific manuscripts for about 20 medical journals such as JMRI, NMR in Biomedicine, Cancer, Neoplasia, and Annals of Oncology.

OMICS Journal of Radiology is an open access, peer-reviewed journal which aims to provide the most rapid and reliable source of information on current developments in the field of Radiology. The emphasis will be on publishing quality papers quickly and freely available to researchers worldwide. The first issue of OMICS Journal of Radiology was launched in 2012 March. So far 9 issues of the journal with high quality radiology-related articles have been published. The Journal staff and editorial board members have worked very hard for the journal to establish its high professional standing.

As an editorial board member of the journal, I have witnessed its rapid growth, in terms of quality and quantity of published articles, in a very short period of time. I therefore strongly recommend OMICS Journal of Radiology to be indexed in PubMed Central. Thank you.
