

Dear Colleagues,

I strongly recommend the Journal of Bacteriology and Parasitology to be indexed in PubMed.

The Journal provides novel insights in different aspects of the biology of pathogenic organisms, methods of their investigation, epidemiological situation in different regions and clinical research. This information is important for bacteriologists and parasitologists, but is also very useful for the colleagues from other research fields. Thus, I decided to support the application of the Journal for the indexing in PubMed.

Best regards,

Sincerely,

22. 07. 2013
